CHAIN LINKS QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"If you are going to achieve excellence in big things, you must develop the habit in little matters. Completing each task, however minute or seemingly unimportant to the big task, to its fullest and with your best effort each day will lead to excellence in the big projects. Excellence is achieved through commitment to EACH task regardless of how seemingly small, trivial, or mundane."

Colin Powell, General, US Army (Retired)

It is your responsibility to be aware of when your desired sport starts practicing and this information can be found on each school's website beginning May 1, 2019.
